

Complex Transactions

From the initiation and planning to the completion of the project, complex transactions require close management to monitor the performance along the way.

Whatever the real estate - residential, commercial, office or leisure - we specialize in representing developers, construction companies, contractors, purchase groups and private individuals, in Israel and abroad, on a range of transactions, including joint ventures and combination transactions.

Collaborating seamlessly and professionally with our colleagues in relevant teams and departments, we offer a coordinated raft of services under a single roof that allows our clients to confidently seize their opportunities and realize the financial value of their real estate assets.
