

Employment Contracts

The sheer breadth of knowledge in our Sports department allows us to create uniquely and tailored employment contracts that suit all parties.

Contracts between athletes and sports clubs are subject to provisions of the relevant sports association bylaws, to which the athlete and the club belong. Our deep familiarity of these laws and bylaws ensures that we leave nothing to chance when designing specific and tailor-made contracts.

Our forward-thinking perspective and vast practical experience provides clients with the comfort that all issues, present and future, have been considered, and allows them to focus on what they do best – compete.
