About

Uri Milshtein is a partner in the firm's Corporate department, with a strong focus on High-Tech and Startup Companies.

Uri is known for his rich experience and profound business-oriented perspective. He has earned his reputation by supporting various businesses, across a wide array of industries, from pre-seed through growth to mergers and acquisitions.

Uri has vast experience negotiating investments, mergers and acquisitions as well as domestic and cross-border transactions.

In addition, his practice includes resolving and litigating corporate, commercial and employment disputes, with deep specialty in shareholders and founders' struggles.

Uri's clients benefit from his unique combination of skills and experience as both a corporate and commercial attorney and litigator, which allows him to clearly see and use the possibilities and risks of every situation or transaction.
